Lewis Evans and wife Sarah came from Caernarvonshire, Wales, in 1752 and settled in Vincent Township, Chester County, Pa. Lewis died May 19, 1762, aged 46. His wife Sarah survived him many years and died March 11, 1803, aged 93. They were buried in the Charlestown Presbyterian Churchyard, in Chester County, Pa.

They had these children, born in Wales, except the last.

1. Daniel (1743-1820) mar. Esther Benner, who was born in Leipsic, Germany.
2. John mar. Agnes Carter Barnard, widow of Thomas Barnard.
3. Barbara
4. Jeremiah (1749-1821) mar. Mary Evans, not a kinswoman.
5. Sarah
- 6. Abel, who was born on the voyage.

After the death of Lewis Evans, the family moved to the Township of Uwchlan and settled on 62½ acres. Here they built a house in 1776, which was enlarged in 1801, and the farm was increased to 350 acres, 333 acres of this being owned later by Newton Evans, grandson of Daniel Evans. Anthony Wayne was a boyhood friend of Daniel, and it is said that Wayne's forces were once encamped on the Evans farm. An intimate friendship was maintained throughout their lives.

This family is recorded by Futhey and Cope in the History of Chester County, Pa.

Uwchlan means in the Welsh language, Upland-above the valley.

EVANS ANCESTRY

Children of Daniel Evans (1743-1820) and Esther Benner.

EVANS ANCESTRY

John Evans, 2nd son of Lewis Evans, our original ancestor, was born in Wales 1745 and died in Chester County, Pa. 1783. His wife was Agnes Carter, widow of Thomas Barnard.

Children of John Evans and Agnes Carter Barnard;

*See Card 100
Fam. B. 1.*

1. Daniel Evans b. 1773 mar. Sarah Clinger
2. Mary b. 1776
3. Sarah b. 1778 mar. Samuel Barber
4. Silas b. 1780
5. Elam b. 1782 mar. Phoebe Smith

After the death of John the father, the mother lived with Elam Evans, their youngest son.

Many other Evans families having the same ancestry, came from Wales and settled in Chester Co. and in Delaware, near the Welsh Baptist Church. This was a Baptist family, but there were various Quaker settlements, whose church members bore the Evans name. Some retained the family name, while many retained the Welsh custom, and changed the last name with each marriage. These can be traced in their church books. But there were other slight changes. Johns became Jones. Griffith in time became Griffin. The above family were related to many other Evans families.

EVANS ANCESTRY

Jeremiah Evans, son of Lewis, original ancestor, is 2nd in our line of descent. Born in Wales, 1749, he came to Chester Co. Pa. with his father in 1752 and married in 1773, Mary Evans, born 1752, daughter of Abner Evans and Sarah Thomas, also of Chester Co. Pa.

Children of Jeremiah Evans and Mary Evans Evans:

- | | | |
|-----------------|---------|--------------------------------|
| 1. Sarah Evans | b. 1775 | m. John Meachem |
| 2. Lewis | b. 1778 | m. Rachel Jones in 1803 |
| 3. Anna | b. 1784 | m. Septimus Cabe |
| 4. Abner | b. 1784 | |
| | d. 1812 | at Wheeling |
| 5. Evan | b. 1787 | m. Mary Tucker |
| | d. 1874 | at Pottstown |
| 6. Rachel | b. 1792 | m. Owen Philips in 1814 |
| | d. 1865 | |

Jeremiah Evans served as a private during the Revolutionary War in Captain Griffith's Co. 2nd Bat. Chester Co. Militia. Pa. Archives, 5th Series, Vol. 5, pp 537

Jeremiah died May 14, 1826. His will was dated 2-6-1821, and among other items, it gave to Rachel, wife of Owen Philips, 280 pounds in money and the house clock.

Jeremiah and his wife were residents of East Nantmeal Twp. and are buried in Chester Co. where his will was recorded.

The ancestry of his wife Mary is given on the following page.

His son Lewis, 3rd in this line of Evans ancestry, became a resident of Greene Co. Pa.

The following table shows the results of the analysis of the data collected during the experiment. The data were collected from the experiment conducted on the 15th of May 1998. The data were collected from the experiment conducted on the 15th of May 1998.

Time (min)	Temperature (°C)	Pressure (kPa)	Flow rate (L/min)
0	25.0	101.3	1.0
10	25.5	101.5	1.0
20	26.0	101.8	1.0
30	26.5	102.0	1.0
40	27.0	102.2	1.0
50	27.5	102.5	1.0
60	28.0	102.8	1.0
70	28.5	103.0	1.0
80	29.0	103.2	1.0
90	29.5	103.5	1.0
100	30.0	103.8	1.0

The data show that the temperature and pressure increase over time, while the flow rate remains constant. This is expected behavior for a system where the temperature and pressure are not controlled. The data also show that the temperature and pressure increase at a constant rate, which is consistent with the theoretical model.

The data also show that the temperature and pressure increase at a constant rate, which is consistent with the theoretical model. The data also show that the temperature and pressure increase at a constant rate, which is consistent with the theoretical model.

Griffith died intestate leaving these heirs, viz: Evan, Abner, Griffith, Joshua, Mary (late the wife of John Dookley, who left one child), Ruth (wife of John Vaughan), Rachel, Hannah, and Elizabeth. Said 200 acres was bought by Abner, 2nd son, at a valuation returned by the Sheriff by order of the Orphan's Court Nov. 30, 1757.

Children of Abner Evans and Sarah Thomas.

- Abner Evans served as a private in the 8th Co. 6th Bat. under Lt. Col. Caleb Davis in the Chester Co. Militia 1780, with Capt. Wm. Kirk, Lt. James Williamson, Ensign Amos Penigas. Pa. Arch. 5th Ser. Vol.5, pp.711.

Jesse and Mary were the parents of Col. Samuel Evans, Mrs Eliza Wilson (mother of Judge Alpheus Evans Wilson) and Mrs John K. Ewing of Uniontown, Pa.

EVANS ANCESTRY

Lewis Evans, born Dec.17, 1778, son of Jeremiah and Mary Evans, married in 1803, Rachel Jones, daughter of Robert Jones and Jane Bolton, who came from Newcastle Co. Delaware, to Greene Co. Pa. These families were early settlers and their lives were closely interwoven with the history of Greene, Washington, and Fayette Counties.

Lewis Evans died April 28, 1858. Rachel died Mar.20,1867, aged 81. They are buried in the Garrard Fort Cemetery near Whitely, Pa.

Children of Lewis Evans and Rachel Jones.

GREGG- ANCESTRY

William Gregg came from Scotland to America in 1682 with his family and settled in Newcastle Co. Delaware. His land grant of 400 acres was one of the first made, and is recorded by Scharf and by Conrad. This land was known as Rockland Manor in Christiana Hundred, Delaware being the only state in which the term was then used to designate a township. A later grant was patented to his son John, of 200 acres, and John bought in 1702, 200 acres more.

William Gregg was a man of influence in his country and a descendant of Scottish Kings. His wife's name is unknown, though she was living in 1694, the year that John was married. William died and was buried on his own plantation July 1, 1687. These were his children:

1. Richard Gregg (rec'd 150 acres of the 1st grant)
2. Ann Gregg d.1729 m. William Dixon 1st
m. John Houghton 2nd
3. John G. (1668-1738) m. Elizabeth Cooke in 1694
4. George G. d.1744 m. Sarah Hogg (Hoag)

Wills of William Dixon and John Houghton name Ann as wife.

Will of John Gregg names Elizabeth as wife.

Will of George Gregg names Sarah as wife.

John Gregg (1668-1738) second in our line of descent, was married in 1694 to Elizabeth Cooke. They owned 3 square miles of fertile land along the Brandywine Creek. These were their children:

1. William Gregg (1695-1747) m. Margery Hinkey, Cecil Co. Md.
m. Ann Dixon Woodnut 2nd
2. Amy m. Joseph Hadley in 1721
3. Thomas d.1748 m. Dinah Harlan Feb. 10, 1729
4. Joseph (1710-1770) m. Hannah Beeson in 1735
5. Samuel (1710-1767) m. Ann Robinson Feb. 27, 1737
6. Hannah m. George Robinson
7. Rebecca m. Sprague

John Gregg (1668-1738) conveyed to his son William, Apr. 10, 1730 his grist mill and land. William by his will Jan. 10, 1746, devised it to his sons Harmon, William, Joshua and Jacob. Jacob Aug. 20, 1769, conveyed his interest to his son Harmon, a miller.

The old Gregg lands in Delaware passed long ago to other owners, one old home built of stone with walls 2 feet in thickness, was on land that went to the Du Pont estates. Dinah Harlan, who married Thomas Gregg, was the daughter of Dinah Dixon and Michael Gregg, and had married Thomas Harlan in 1690.

The Greggs were Quakers and were recorded in their church books in Philadelphia and Baltimore.

GREGG- ANCESTRY

Samuel Gregg (1710-1767) was the son of John Gregg and Elizabeth Cocke and third in our line of descent. Samuel married Ann Robinson Feb.27,1737 in Kennett Meeting House. They had these children:

- | | |
|----------------------------------|--|
| 1. Betty Gregg | m. 1st Jacob Wilson |
| | m. 2nd Jonathan Woodnut |
| | m. 3rd Jones |
| 2. Sarah G.(1743-1801) | m. Gideon Gilpin in 1762 |
| | He mar. Susanna Hoopes 2nd. |
| 3. Samuel (1752-1830) | m. Dinah Chandler in 1773. |

GREGG- ANCESTRY

Joseph Gregg was born Dec.7,1782, the son of John Gregg and Orpha Stubbs in Greene Co. Pa.
He married Sept.6,1810, Cassandra Corbley, daughter of the Rev. John Corbley and Nancy Ann Lynn.
Cassandra was born June 1,1791 and died in 1861.
They had these children:

1. Elizabeth Gregg b. June 15, 1811
2. Ruth Gregg b. Sept.19, 1812
3. Orpha b. Oct. 16, 1813 m. Thomas Titus
4. Sarah b. Oct. 31, 1815 m. William Woods

Of the above family, born and married in Greene Co. Pa. three daughters , Nancy, Sarah and Eliza with their husbands and small children came west to Woodford Co. Ill. about 1855 and bought land near El Paso, where they made their homes. Matilda, when a widow, resided in El Paso for a time but returned to Pa. where all the others of this family lived.

The father Joseph died in 1868.

Records of the Goslen Baptist Church near Whiteley, Greene Co. Pa. show that the above Nancy Evans, & Eliza Patterson were granted letters in 1849 and 1851 prior to their removal to Illinois. M.E. B.

LYNN ANCESTRY

There were Lynns living in Scotland long ago, but some went to Ireland where they were landholders. See O'Hart's Landed Gentry, which lists Andrew and David. Many use the spelling Linn.

It is certain that they came to America at a very early date and lived in New Jersey, for their wills are in the index of those made between the years 1705-1804. The names of Andrew, Alexander, John, Joseph, Robert and Samuel appear. History records the tide of eastern settlers which flowed into Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania and other states in search of new homes and better conditions. Since the Andrew Lynn who appeared in Maryland at some time prior to 1760 was always called Andrew Lynn Jr. it is certain that he was the son of an Andrew Lynn whose record we do not have. A well informed descendant gives the birth of Andrew Lynn Jr. as about 1728.

An old Bible owned by his son Andrew Lynn Esq. and later by Denton Lynn, contains Bickerstaff, Ashercraft, Johnson and McFerran records. From this is taken the marriage of Mary Ashercraft Johnson to Andrew Lynn Jr. in 1760, Town Creek, Md.

About 1761 they moved northward near Brownsville, near Fort Burd, now in Pa. Here he tomahawked a claim to land on both sides of Redstone Creek, which was later surveyed for him by the Government and was known as Crabtree Bottom, Tract No. 2851, being the first survey in what was then Fayette Co. Signed by Benjamin Franklin. This land remained in the family until about 1902, and contained coal and iron ores of which he never dreamed.

The old Va. maps include this S.W. corner of Pa. and many who came from the south brought with them their southern customs and slaves, Andrew Lynn having many who had been with the family in Md.

Andrew Lynn died in 1794 and was buried in the family graveyard on the farm where he lived.

His wife survived him many years and was buried beside him. They had one daughter Nancy and five sons, named on the following page and whose descendants are given in the Lynn records in the last part of this Genealogy.

Additional surveys were made and patents granted 1769. Also 450 acres belonging to William, brother of Andrew were purchased.

CORBLEY ANCESTRY

John Corbley was born in England Feb.25, 1733 and came to America when about 16, going to Virginia. There he married Miss Abigail Bull of Winchester and they had four children, two of whom died in infancy. After the death of their mother, the father removed to Greene Co. Pa. with his two daughters. Margaret Corbley married George Morris. Rachel married Justus Garrard. The Morris families were descended from those of New Jersey and Philadelphia. Descendants of the Corbley-Garrard family resided in Berwick, Ill. over 60 years.

Records of the Goshen Baptist Church, now known as the Corbley Memorial Chapel, near Whitely, Pa. show that John Corbley was received by letter from the Mill Creek Church in Va. June 10, 1775 and was ordained as a minister.

He married Miss Elizabeth Tyler as his second wife and they had several children. On Sunday May 10, 1782, she and the children with her were scalped and slain by the Indians, except Delilah, who married Mr. Martin, and Priscilla, who married Mr. Knight. This massacre was recorded by several historians.

Rev. Corbley married as his third wife, Nancy Ann Lynn, oldest child and only daughter of Andrew Lynn and Mary Ashercraft Johnson, near Brownsville, Pa. They had these children:

Corbley records.

Rev. John Corbley died in 1803 and was buried at Garrard Fort Cemetery, near Whitely. His wife who was born in 1733 lived until 1826 and was buried by his side.

Of his last family, descendants of the Andrew Lynn whose son in law he was, records of Andrew, Pleasant, Cassandra, and William are given in the Lynn genealogy in this book. The family of Margaret Corbley and George Morris are given, also the Fordyce descendants of his daughter Rachel Garrard.

The life of John Corbley was one of adventure, trials, and experiences that required great fortitude. A letter written by him to a friend in Philadelphia, asking that flour and ammunition be sent to Wilson's or Hardin's mill, reveals the needs and dangers of pioneers so far from the military protection in the east. This letter was dated July 20, 1777. At this period the S.W. boundary of Pa. was not as it is now. An old map of Va. includes the S.W. corner of Pa. and also Ohio territory. The tragic episodes of Corbley's life, as well as all the early records of the section in which he lived are found in histories of Old Westmoreland, Monongahela, or Monongalia, as it was sometimes called. Also in the Ohio Country and in Va.

About 1775 he met with 12 others to organize the Forks of Cheat Church, in Va. He served the N. mile Baptist church near Uniontown as its pastor. Among the 10 trustees of the first Academy incorporated in Washington Co. Pa. Sept. 10, 1787 was John Corbley.

He was one of 18 men arrested during the Revolution, in Nov. 1794, accused of treason, because of a lack of war activities. This was in Washington Co. Pa. and they were marched from Greensburg to Philadelphia in deep winter snow, where Corbley was admitted to bail Mar. 4, 1795 and all were acquitted. These men are listed in history.

Collins History of Ky. Vol. II lists John Corbley as a private in Capt. Wm. Harrod's Company near the Falls in 1780.

(Elizabeth Rossell was the daughter of Rev. John Rossell, Fayette Co. Pa.)

Capt. John Fordyce was a resident of Berwick, Ill. for 60 years. They had three children:

1. Jennie Fordyce b. Nov. 1, 1866.
 m. Dec. 24, 1891- Joseph Fluke

2. Etta Fordyce b. 1869
 m. June 29, 1869- W.W. Brent-Monmouth,
 Ill.
3. Lilly Fordyce b. 1874

According to records, Samuel Fordyce was the father of Rev. John Fordyce above. The will of Samuel Fordyce was probated Nov. 7, 1822 in Greene Co. Pa.

The above record was taken from the Fordyce Genealogy compiled by Gustave Anjou, and from Greene Co. records.

The progenitor of the Irish families of Fordyce in S.W.Pa. is said to be Hugh Fordyce, born in Antrim Co. Ireland in 1527, who married in 1552, July 3rd, Mary Conynningham of Co. Ayr, Scotland.

The above John Fordyce enlisted at Morgantown, W. Va. and served in the Civil war. After the battle of Antietam, he was commissioned Capt. and fought at Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Wilderness and Gettysburg.

JONES ANCESTRY

Rev. Griffith Jones, first of this line in America, was born in Wales Oct. 8, 1695 and came in 1749 to join the Welsh settlement near Iron Hill, Newcastle Co. Del. He was descended from Rev. Morgan Jones, born at Alt Fawr, Parish of Llannon, 1625, who married Griffith, daughter of Lord Griffith Griffith of Swansea, Wales.

Rev. Griffith Jones served as pastor and papers of the Historical Society of Delaware refer to him, also the History of Chester Co. Pa. Church records show that he was received by letter from Wales Jan. 2, 1750. The death of his widow is given as Oct. 25, 1773. Also the baptism of some of his children, and his death Sept. 4, 1754.

His children were Morgan, Mary, Samuel, John, Rachel, Robert and Benjamin. Of this family, Robert, Benjamin and John moved to West Pa. and their families were members of the Goshen Baptist Church, near Whitely, Pa. m. Apr
The Goshen
1750. Mary Jones

Robert Jones, born Mar. 20, 1743, married Jane Bolton. Robert died April 15, 1809. Jane died July 22, 1826, and was buried beside her husband in the Goshen Church Cemetery.

Two of their daughters, Mary and Rachel, were connected by marriage with the early Evans families in Greene Co. Pa. Mary Jones married Jesse Evans, born 1758, son of Abner. Rachel Jones married Lewis Evans, born 1778, who was the son of Jeremiah Evans and Mary Evans, sister of Jesse. These two sisters are recorded in the Evans ancestry.

Robert Jones Evans, born 1817, was the son of Rachel Jones and Lewis Evans, and the grandfather of the writer.

Robert Jones Burdette, born 1844, writer, humorist and public speaker, was a descendant of this Jones family. His family moved from Fayette Co. Pa. to Cincinnati, and he left home to begin his writing career as night editor for the Peoria Transcript, later with the Brooklyn Eagle and was editor with Frank Hatton of the Burlington Hawkeye. He served as a private in the 47th Ill. Vol. 1862-1865. He was called as pastor of the Temple Church in Los Angeles, where he died 1914. His career was both notable and admirable.

THE WELSH TRACT BAPTIST CURCH

Pencader Hundred, Delaware.

The Welsh Tract consisted of 30,000 acres or more, which was granted by William Penn prior to 1700 to be divided and deeded to settlers from Wales, some of whom had settled in Rednor Twp. Chester Co. Pa.

This is recorded in the papers of the Historical Society of Delaware. Most of this tract lies in the county of Newcastle, Del. but about one fourth lies in Cecil Co. Md. While many of the Welsh who came over were Quakers, this group near Iron Hill, was originally a Baptist settlement. Others came in 1701 and a log church was built, which was replaced a few years later by a new one with timbers and bricks from England.

Here the Gospel was preached in the Welsh language and the records were so kept until about 1800 and were translated. They were a very strict people and the records are interesting. The first minister was Rev. Thomas Griffith..

The church records show on pp. 46, that the Rev. Griffith Jones was received by "vertue of a letter from Wales, Jan.2, 1750". This was the year after he came. The death of his widow, Oct.25, 1773, is given on pp. 71. His death was recorded on pp. 70, the date being Sept.4, 1754. The baptism of some of his children are given.

About 1735 many of these Welsh moved to Carolina and other places in the South, and the familiar names of Evans, Jones, Griffith, Gregg and many others are well scattered.

This was the mother church from which sprung the Pedee River Church and others. The "History of Old Cheraws" records the Welsh in the Carolinas.

Mrs Alcinda McMechen of Wheeling, W.Va. was a daughter of Louisa Johnson Lynn, cousin of Dr. Lewis Field Lynn, U.S. Senator, born Nov.5,1795, Louisville, Ky. He mar. 1818 Elizabeth Rolfe and died Oct.3,1843.

William McMechen and wife Sydney Johnson tomahawked a claim to fine bottom lands near Wheeling, but removed with wife, children and servants to Redstone Fort for safety, returning to W. Va. later.

Moundsville was so called because of an Indian mound 900 ft. in circumference topped by a tall tree, the rings of which showed an age of 500 years. Results of excavations made are in the Smithsonian Institute.

JOHN LYNN

Third son of Andrew Lynn and Mary A. Johnson
He was born Feb. 20, 1769-Fayette Co. Pa.

With his friend John Crawford, he was in the service of the Government as a scout before he was 20.

They went with six others on an expedition from Fort Henry, now Wheeling, W. Va. to Ohio. When near Sandusky, they were attacked by Indians at night. John Lynn and another were killed. They were buried there by their comrades, who escaped and returned next day. The exact date is not known.

General Wayne defeated the Maumee Indians in 1794, and there was no further need for scout service in that part of the country.

John Lynn and John Crawford had agreed that in case one met death and the other escaped and had a son, that the son should bear the name of the other.

The Crawfords were related to the Lynns, since William Lynn, brother of John, had married Mary Crawford.

Isaac Lynn was born on Crabtree Bottom farm in Fayette Co. Pa. and farmed there and was a miller. In 1817 he built a house there. He organized in 1813 a Company of Infantry under Col. Reese Hill and was stationed at Erie Pa. where he served with honor and bore a Captain's commission. Redstone Twp. at that time was in Spottsylvania Co. Va. The family Bible records his death. Records of Mary Lynn and James Madison Lynn are on pages 62 -63, being children of brothers.

William Lynn

William Lynn, brother of Andrew Lynn Jr. went with him to Fayette Co. about 1761 and tomahawked a claim for 450 acres which Andrew bought from him later. On Feb. 7, 1753, William Lynn took the oath of office as Capt. of an Independent Company composed of gentlemen inhabitants of Fredericksburg, Va.

He served with Braddock as a scout and was with Major Angus McDonald. In the summer of 1776 with Captain George Gibson, a notable and hazardous trip was made to bring ammunition from New Orleans. Gunpowder was only made near the eastern coast and all supplies for West Pa. had to be brought by horseback over the mountains. The west was helpless since no powder could be spared for them. Disguised as traders they were successful in their mission. Gibson returned by sea and Lynn to Wheeling.

Patrick Henry, Gov. of Va. instructed George Rogers Clarke in leaving for Kaskaskia: You are to apply at Ft. Pitt for powder and lead necessary for your expedition. If Gen. Hand cannot supply it, the person who has charge of that which Capt. Lynn brought from New Orleans will. Lead was sent to N.H. by my orders. This record is found-

"I do testify that 9000 pounds of powder brought from New Orleans by Capt. Lynn was delivered to Col. Wm. Crawford for use of the Continent." David Shepherd-Lt. Ohio Country.

In Oct. 1778 Wm. Lynn left Kaskaskia in charge of the soldiers whose term of service with Clarke had expired and brought them to the Falls of the Ohio where a fort was built in Ky. Both Gibson and Lynn received large land grants, Lynn's being 4,312 acres. His sons William and Asael were with him and were taken by Indians but escaped.

Lewis Field Lynn, U.S. Senator from Mo. was a grandson.

While on his way to attend court at Louisville, Mar. 5th, 1781, William Lynn was killed by Indians. This murder was recorded in Rupp's Hist. of W. Pa., Marshall's Hist. of Kentucky and Hassler's Hist. of Old Westmoreland, and by others.

Robert Jones Evans and Nancy Corbley Gregg were born and married in Greene Co. Pa. and came by train to Chicago in 1855 enroute to Woodford Co. where they bought land and built a home between El Paso and Panola. Their household goods were brought by wagon from Pa. They brought with them the furnishings of a pioneer home, plain walnut chests of drawers, four poster beds, large iron and copper kettles, a spinning wheel and candle molds.

Most wonderful of all was the tall clock, with lead weights, and a picture of the moon above the face, which moved as the months passed. Names of the old German clock makers were rudely carved inside the door, which opened wide enough for a person to step inside. This clock kept perfect time and after the family moved to El Paso, was in possession of different members, until 1930, when its owner died suddenly and the writer has no further knowledge of it. An almost exact replica stands in the Newberry Library.

The deed for their land was recorded at Eureka, Ill. June 23, 1868. An old Indian trail crossed it and a spring of water was there. The writer recalls a well with a windlass and a cave where butter and milk were kept. A garden with flowers and an orchard were planted. Old fashioned herbs were grown and stored in the attic for illness.

To establish a home in the wilderness required faith, courage and sacrifice. To keep through the years their inheritance of character and manner, was an achievement, little realized today. In these people were vested by inheritance, stability of character, honesty and a strong religious belief. For years this home was a happy gathering place for children, grandchildren and neighbors. Regular attendance at the quaint Baptist Panola church was a part of their lives. In later years the home was sold and a residence bought in El Paso. Their golden wedding anniversary was celebrated June 14, 1892, the occasion also of the marriage of their son Lewis and Ella McOmber.

Almost without exception their descendants were of unusual mental ability and attainment. Among them are ministers, missionaries, musicians, artists, poets, writers, journalists and more than twenty teachers. Seven cousins served in France. One a surgeon died in China. An Ensign in the U.S. Aviation service is buried at Arlington.

Their greatest inheritance was an inborn love for the higher things of life and a sustaining ambition and courage.

Copy of a letter written by Rev. John Corbley to Rev. Wm. Rogers of Phil. Pa. from Muddy Creek, Washington Co. Pa. July 8, 1785
(Taken from I. Daniel Rupp's History, pp. 338)

" On the 2nd Sabbath in May in the year 1782, being my appointment at one of my meeting houses, about a mile from my dwelling house I set out with my dear wife and 5 children for public worship. Not suspecting any danger I walked behind 200 yards with my Bible in my hand, meditating. As I was thus employed, all on a sudden, I was greatly alarmed with the frightful shrieks of my dear family before me. I immediately ran with all the speed I could, vainly hunting a club as I ran till I got within 40 yards of them. My poor wife seeing me, cried to me to make my escape. An Indian ran up to shoot me. I then fled and by so doing outran him. My wife had a suckling child in her arms. This little infant they killed and scalped. Then they struck my wife several times, but not getting her down, the Indian who aimed to shoot me, ran to her and shot her through the body and scalped her. My little boy, an only son about 6 years old, they sunk the hatchet into his brain and thus despatched him. A daughter besides the infant they also killed and scalped. My eldest daughter, who is still alive was hid in a tree about 20 yards from where the rest were killed, and saw the whole proceeding. She, seeing the Indians all go off as she thought, got up and deliberately crept out from the hollow trunk, but 1 of them spying her ran hastily up and scalped her. Also her only surviving sister, one on whose head they did not leave more than an inch round either of flesh and skin, besides taking a piece of her skull. She and the before mentioned one are still alive, miraculously preserved, though as you may think, I have had a great deal of trouble and expense with them, besides anxiety about them, insomuch that I am as to worldly circumstances almost ruined. I am yet in hopes of seeing them cured. They still, blessed be God, retain their senses, notwithstanding the painful operations they have already and yet must pass through."

Of the above account, Rev. Corbley writes: "This is a just account of the tragical scene of my family falling by the savages which I related at your house in Philadelphia, and which you requested me to forward in writing".
